Regulatory accounting

In accordance with article 19, section 2 of the Postal Services Act of 17 December 2010, Swiss Post must present its accounts in such a way that costs and revenue can be identified for individual services. The Postal Ordinance of 29 August 2012 substantiates this requirement and regulates the calculation of net costs for the universal service obligation.

The net costs result from a comparison of a hypothetical result recorded by Swiss Post excluding the universal service obligation with the actual result achieved. They represent the difference between the avoided costs and lost revenue. Net costs stood at 371 million francs in 2015.

Swiss Post can offset the net costs from the previous year between different business units and Swiss Post subsidiaries (net cost compensation, NCC). Net cost compensation between business units (segments) amounted to 254 million francs in 2015. Net cost compensation enables Swiss Post to spread the universal service burden over the services and segments that are best able to support it. Net cost compensation does not influence the Group's financial result in any way, but does influence the segment results for PostFinance, PostLogistics, PostMail and Post Offices & Sales.

Each year, the auditing firm KPMG AG checks for PostCom the calculation of net costs and net cost compensation, regulatory accounting and compliance with the ban on cross-subsidies.

Swiss Post submitted the calculation of net costs to PostCom in accordance with the provisions of article 58 of the Postal Ordinance. PostCom approved the calculation for 2015 on 6 May 2016.
